

Control (main) station
processes, analyzes and distributes telemetry data from satellites and issues commands, transmits data and software updates to the satellites.

Ground station

Launch infrastructure

Integration and test equipment

Ground segment is the collection of all Earth-based stations/mission control centers participating in the operation of a given system.

P O L S A

